Eligibility for admission to the NBCOT exam for certification requires specific information from the applicant. The NBCOT application does ask, "Have you ever been charged with a felony?" and "Have you ever been convicted of a felony?"

An individual who is considering entering an educational program or has already entered an educational program can have his or her background reviewed prior to actually applying for the NBCOT exam by requesting an early determination review. The fee for this review is $225.00. In this "early determination" process, the NBCOT may give early or prior approval to take the certification exam, as it pertains to good moral character, provided that the information reviewed is not found to be a violation of any of the principles of the Code of Conduct.

If you have been accused and/or convicted of a felony crime it may also prevent you from being eligible to obtain a COTA license under Wisconsin State Statutes 111.321, 111.322, and 11.335. Each case is reviewed on an individual basis. If you have a conviction, to apply for a Wisconsin license to practice Occupational Therapy, you may be required to take an oral exam.
